*Please note we have other session dates available at our West Vancouver and South Surrey office locations if the above dates don't work with your schedule.

Once a workshop fills, we keep an active waitlist for the session. We recommend registering for a spot in another workshop and being placed on the waitlist for your preferred date. We will contact you if a spot opens on your preferred date.

Intro to Canadian Supplement Writing Workshops

The session will include a presentation that outlines the typical essay and supplemental writing prompts required by major Canadian universities and programs (e.g. UBC, Queen's, Western). During this presentation, session leaders will also provide writing and time management strategies and sample essays from previous years' successful applications. Students will then be given time to brainstorm and engage in practice writing exercises.

Options Solutions writing coaches will give students one-on-one feedback on their drafts, and all students will leave with a clear direction on how to tackle and complete their application essays.

University Supplement Writing Workshops

These sessions aim to help students complete the supplemental writing portions of their university and scholarship applications, including essays, personal statements, activities summaries and resumes.

Writing Workshop serves as an accessible introduction to university level writing, and students will leave the sessions with an understanding of effective written language use. We accommodate students working on a variety of projects all in the same session, and our writing coaches work personally with students on their unique pieces.

Canadian Application Workshops

These sessions are designed for students who want assistance completing their Canadian post-secondary applications in a constructive and supportive environment.

Our educational consultants will lead students through completing the application process step-by-step and answer any questions that arise along the way.

Video Interview Workshops

The session will include a presentation that outlines the main components of video interview requirements, as well as a practical guide for successfully completing those videos. During the session, students will learn how to answer typical interview questions and have the opportunity to tackle some sample questions as a group.

They will then practice in pairs and give each other feedback, as well as record responses for analysis. Programs that require the video interview include commerce at UBC, the University of Toronto, and York University, as well as engineering at the University of Toronto and Waterloo.

Contact us to reserve your spot!

Space is limited. Full payment is required at the time of registration. Only students who pay in advance will be guaranteed a spot. Please remember that our 48-hour cancellation policy extends to all group sessions. Session dates are subject to change.
